

Probing Naval Awards

Hon. Frederick Hale.

The Junior Senator from Maine is chairman of the Senate subcommittee, which is investigating naval awards or decorations in the famous Admiral Sims controversy with Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. This subcommittee will also investigate other phases of the controversy. Senator Hale during the hearings has conducted the investigation of all witnesses in behalf of the majority or Republican side of the subcommittee. He also has had sharp tilts with Senators Pittman and Trammell, Democrats, who attempted to justify the action of Secretary Daniels.

Coast United Shows Prepare for Exhibition

The Coast United Shows, which arrived in Cedar City last fall and were prevented from running on account of the storm and other adverse conditions, have returned here from California and other parts of the country, and are preparing for a week's run in Cedar City. But before the merry-go-round and other features were erected the storm again descended upon them, and today it appears quite probable that they will have to give Cedar City up as a "bad job." Not only is there considerable adverse public opinion here in regard to carnivals of this kind, but seemingly the weather man has it in for them as well. If the weather clears up within the next few days the management will no doubt try it again.

NOTICE TO CITY WATER USERS.

NOTICE is hereby given to all persons in arrears on account of culinary water tap rentals to make settlement with the City Treasurer at once. Unless payment is made within thirty days from the date of this notice, the water will be shut off at the curb from all such renters.

THE TALE OF FRANKLIN'S KITE

(By William Ludlum.)

Long years ago Ben Franklin tossed
A kite up to the gale,
It had a leading string to earth,
Likewise a guiding tail.
And when the storm clouds spilt their load
Of lightning o'er the land,
The juice ran down the dripping
string
And tickled Franklin's hand.

Since Franklin dared the lightning's
flash
Strange things have come about,
The many comforts he had not—
We cannot do without.
The telegraph, the telephone,
The incandescent light,
The trolley car, the wireless,
All followed Franklin's kite.

When Franklin's kite went up in air,
(He was "Poor Richard" then)
His bold exploit proved "kites"
For many other men.
We call them "profiteers" today,
Who do not hesitate
To "fly" the price of everything
Up to the highest rate.

Ben Franklin was the only known
"Poor Richard" of his day;
But numberless are those who now
For that same title pay.
Price boosters so manipulate
The market's rise and fall
That they have made by kiting things
"Poor Richards" of us all.

MERRILL BOOSTS ORCHARD BUSINESS

Says the Outlook for the Industry is Exceptionally Bright, if Properly Handled.

The man who owns an orchard these days should watch his step says Dr. M. C. Merrill, horticulturist, U. A. C. The man who watches his step is careful and painstaking, and he knows just where he is going and why. The orchard business demands just those qualities and that insight.

In surveying the orchardists prospects at the present time, Dr. Merrill declared that the financial outlook for the orchard business is better today than it has been for years. "The indications are that it will continue good," said Dr. Merrill, "but even granting that fact, there should be no pell mell rushing into the business unthinkingly and without a definite program. Slips and falls and bruises and possible disaster are liable to occur if one does not watch his step as he goes. For remember that the orchard game is not an easy one to play. The successful orchardist must have a knowledge of both the scientific and business details of his work and must be alert and observing and prepared to combat any adverse conditions or pests as soon as they appear—in short he must watch his step every day of the year.

"The present good prices for fruit and financial returns from the orchard will undoubtedly induce many men to go into fruit raising who are not adapted to the work by either training, experience or temperament. The present conditions will also probably cause some general farmers to increase the size of their orchard and thus disturb the equilibrium that should prevail between the various types of plant and animal production on the farm. Again there will be some who will set out a 50 or a 100 acre orchard where they should start with a one, five or ten-acre orchard.

"But by all means, the man who has a bearing orchard to-day should watch his step. If he has taken proper care of his orchard in the past and if he will continue to do so even more zealously now, he will undoubtedly find the orchard business a very profitable one. Such is the spirit of optimism at present prevailing the ranks of fruit growers generally. And this optimism is most felt by those most familiar with the present conditions pertaining to the various phases of fruit production.

"The man who would set out an orchard now should beware. The man who has a good orchard should take care of it. Both need to watch their step."

WORE NO SHOES FOR TWO YEARS

Los Angeles Woman Lived In Bed and Pillowed Chair Until She Started On Tanlac

"I had to be cared for just like a baby before I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Alice Murphy, of 1501, Pennsylvania Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

"Two years ago I had a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism," she continued, "and no one knows the pain and torture I have suffered since. My hands swelled till I could hardly work my fingers and I haven't been able to put on a pair of shoes because my feet were swollen so. I had sharp pains through my back so bad that at times I simply could not keep from screaming. Sometimes I got so dizzy everything seemed to spin around and then I would have sharp pains and a chilly feeling afterwards. I was so helpless that I lived propped up with pillows in a chair or in bed all the time and had to be helped from one place to another.

"I tried every medicine or treatment we could hear of, but it was money thrown away and I got so blue I did not care to live. Then my husband read in the papers about Tanlac and by the time I had taken it four or five days I saw it was helping me. Now after taking several bottles, I can't praise Tanlac enough. My nerves are so much better I sleep like a child all night long. I am already doing my housework again and it is the first time in two years I have been able to get around at all and wear my shoes."

Tanlac is sold in Cedar City by the Cedar City Drug Co. and in Parowan by the Parowan Drug Co. Adv.

Cletrac TANK-TYPE TRACTOR

20 Horse-power at the pulley — 12 at the drawbar

Compact—just what the average rancher wants. But under its small hood is a powerful, well-behaved motor. Simple in design, few parts—the power reaches the drawbar with least possible loss. The Cletrac drags a surprisingly big load—at the correct speed. Cletrac costs little for upkeep. Cheap to operate. It does all your work—any time—any weather.

Large roller track-wheel bearings. Dust-proof motor. Water air-clarifier. New tank-type, 8-inch-wide, single-grouser track. You will want these features in the tractor you buy.

Why not have us show you the Cletrac on your own land, doing your own work? No obligation.

DIXIE POWER COMPANY TO COMPLETE CIRCUIT

President A. L. Woodhouse of the Dixie Power Company, was in Cedar City the first of this week. He reports work recommenced upon the line paralleling the state highway between Kanarra and Echo Farm, and stated that if weather conditions were favorable the gap would be closed in ten days. This will give Cedar City and Iron county "another string to their bow," so to speak and should eliminate a number of the interruptions in the service resulting from line trouble, since when one line is in trouble the other side of the loop can be used until the trouble is found and remedied. Labor troubles are holding up the delivery of the water wheel and steel pressure pipe ordered months ago for the second unit of the company's plant but Mr. Woodhouse is daily expecting advices of its shipment. When this additional equipment is installed the service should be practically free from interruptions of every kind.

Has Had Stomach Trouble for Seven Years.

Theodore Sanford of Fenmore, Mich., has had stomach trouble for seven years and could not eat vegetables or fruits without pain in the stomach and restless nights. By taking Chamberlain's Tablets he is now able to eat vegetables or fruit without causing pain or sleeplessness. If troubled with indigestion or constipation give these tablets a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial.—Adv.
